Actionable Insights:

- ❑ Start as many games as possible at 8:00pm. Charge more for games that start at 8:00pm
- ❑ Utilize specials for afternoon games, cut staffing coverage on afternoon games. Move some afternoon games to 11:00am
- ❑ Prepare for most games to have closer to 10-12K attendance.

Actionable Insights:

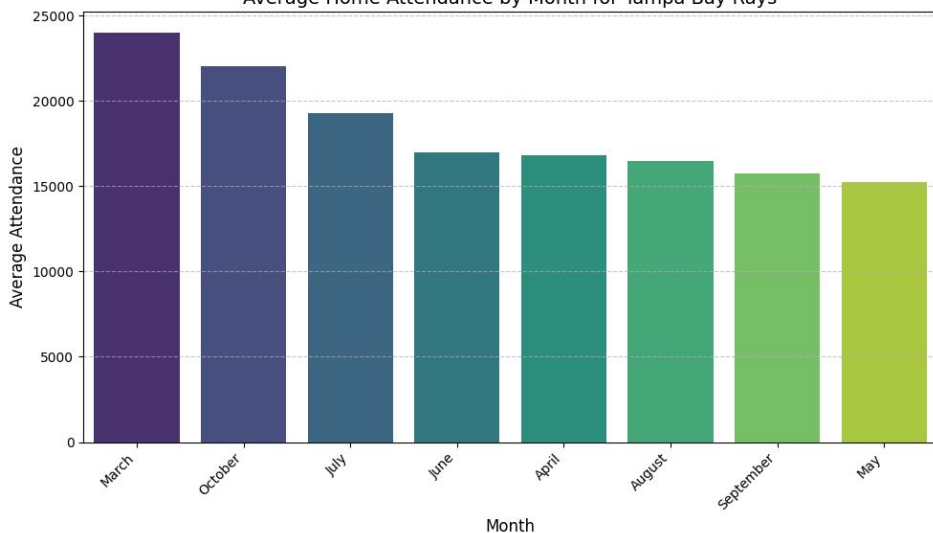

- ❑ Saturday is our highest demand day, we need to maximize Saturday 8:00pm games
- ❑ Cubs, Yankees, and Giants games bring more of our fans and more of the opposing team's fans. Market accordingly
- ❑ Run promotions for midweek games, especially those in the afternoons, to drive more engagement
- ❑ Promote games from the National League opponents, as they are more rare.

Average Home Attendance by Month for Tampa Bay Rays

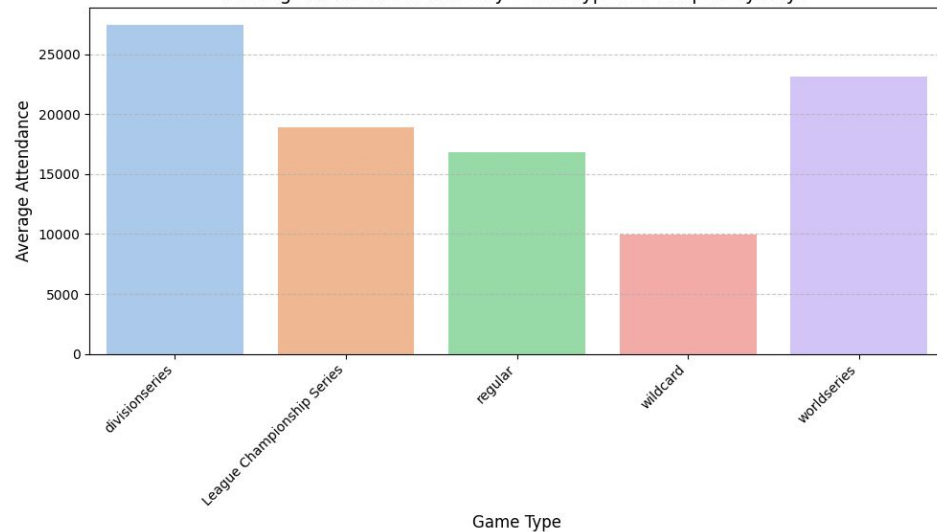

Actionable Insights:

- Focus on promoting engagement in May, see which strategies have worked for March and October, such as ticket packages or inviting school field trips
- Pre-sell wildcard playoff round tickets at aggressive rates. Include refund options if they don't clinch the spot.
- Hitting home runs and attendance is not necessarily correlated.

Ethical Considerations

Ticket Pricing

Increasing prices for high-demand games can help revenue, but the team should keep prices reasonable so games stay accessible.

Game Times

8:00pm games may improve attendance, but it's important to offer a mix so different types of fans can attend.

Fair Promotions

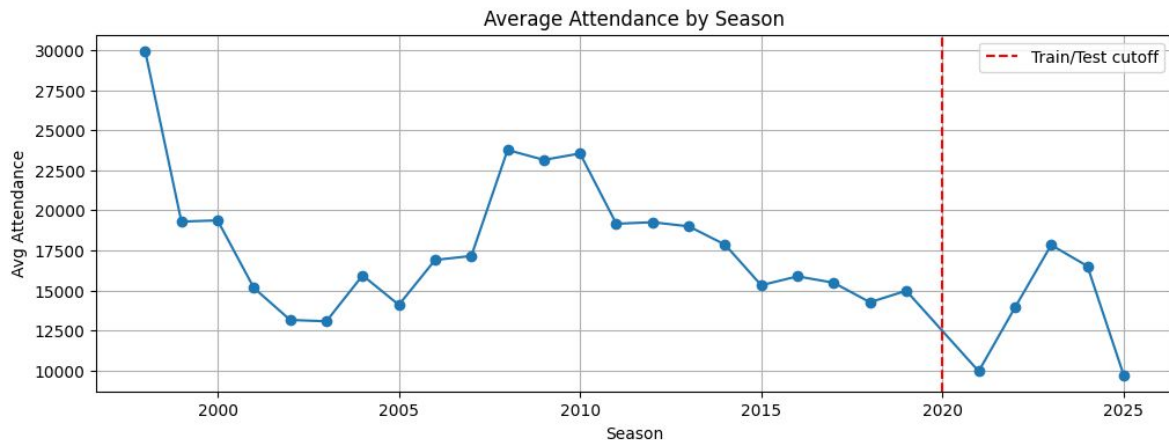

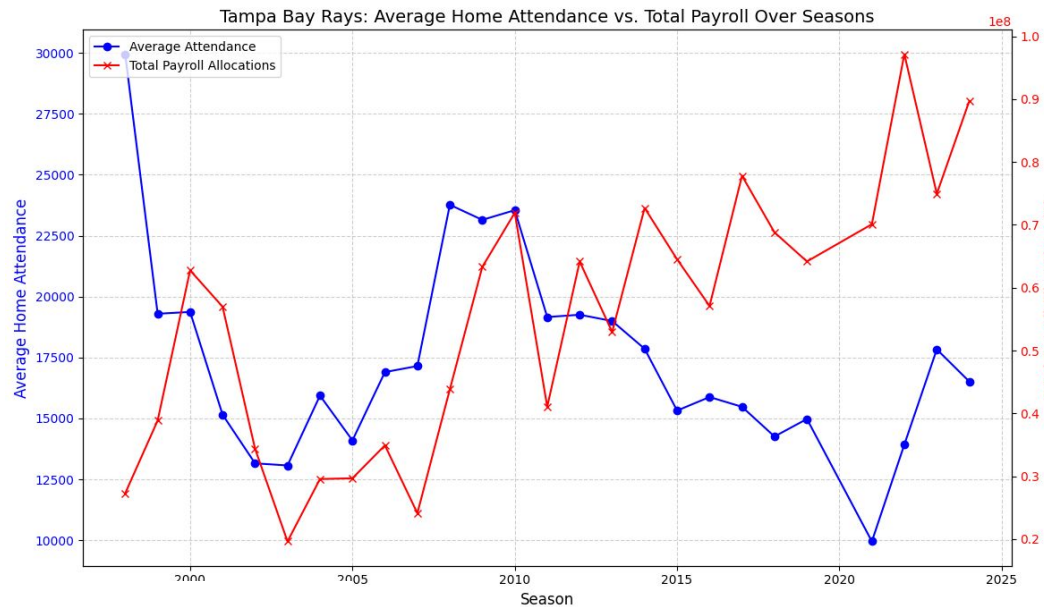

Promotions should be designed to appeal to a wide audience while boosting overall attendance.

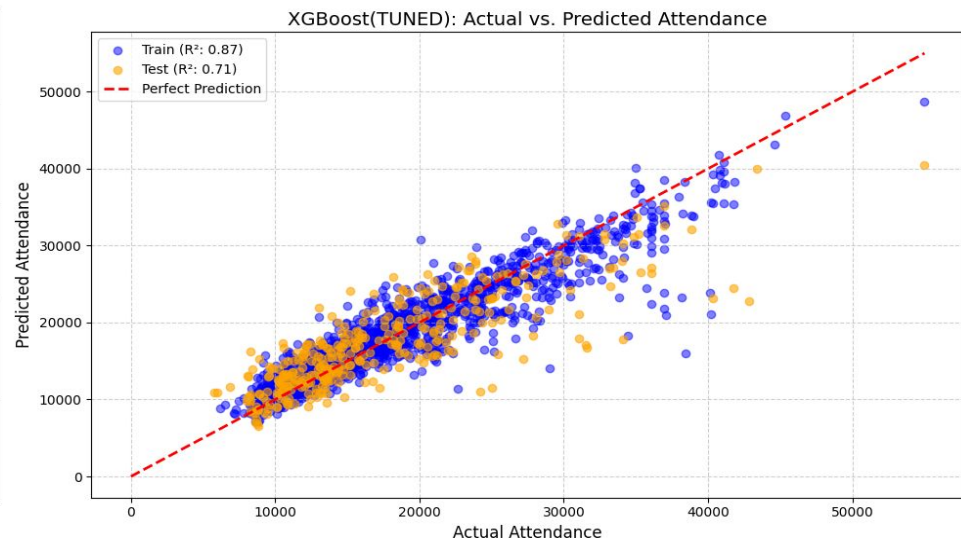

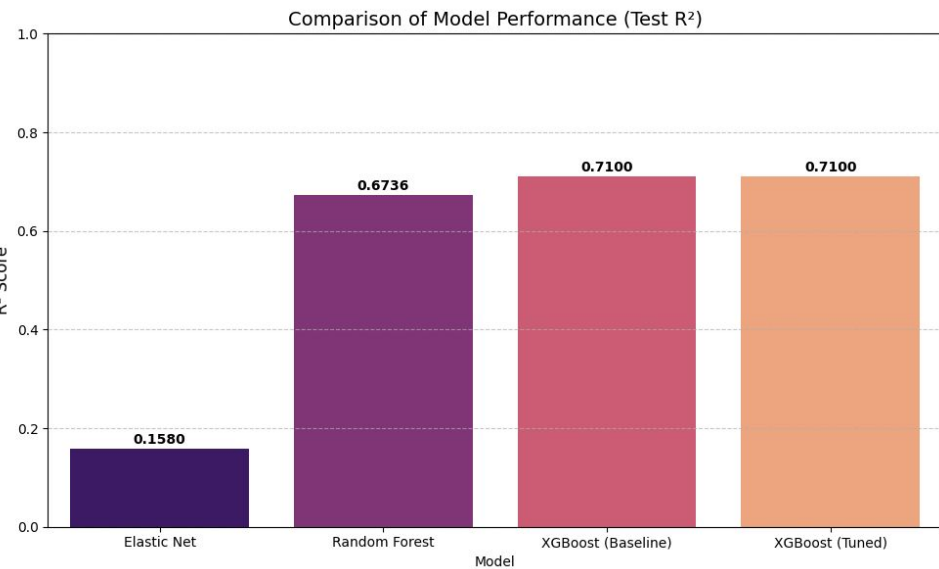

Using Historical Data

Continue monitoring past trends to ensure decisions reflect current fan behavior and changing needs.

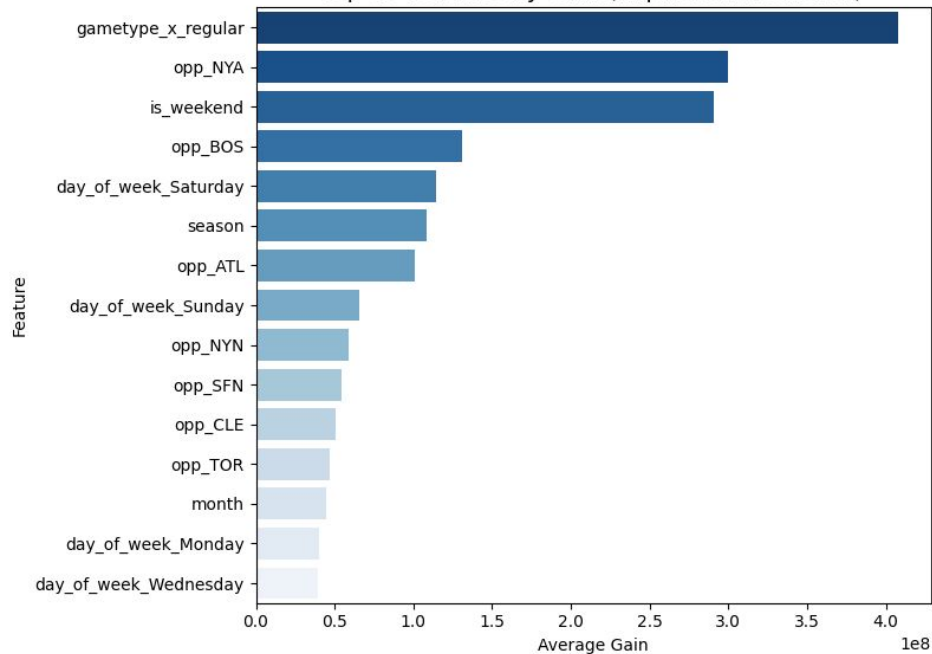

❑ We can see that payroll and attendance don't correlate perfectly - there is no need to pay players extra to drive investment return.

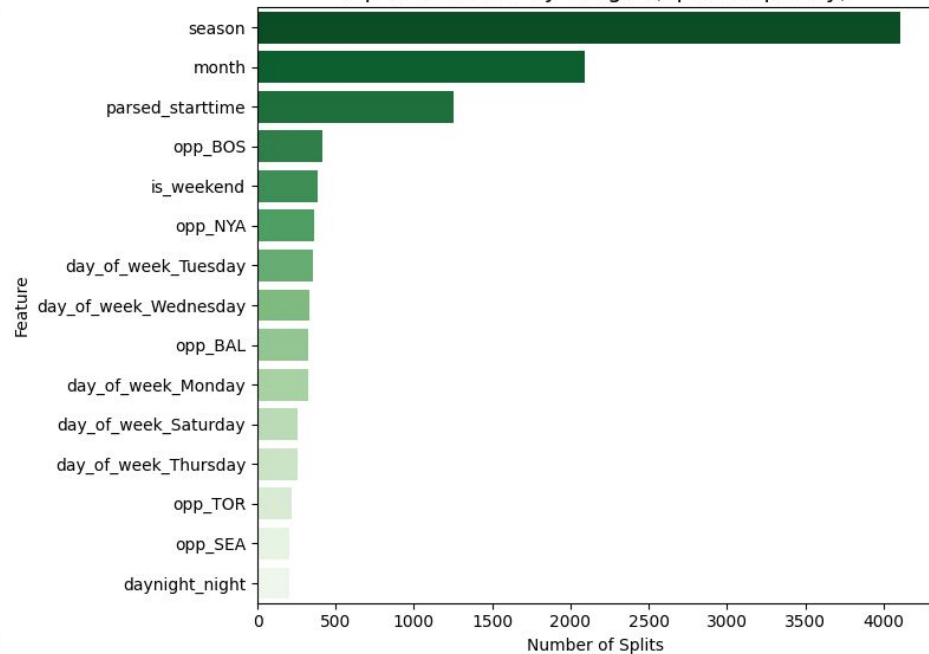

❑ Covid attendance drop-off - hurricane afterwards.
